DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Built close to the street, this two bay, two story frame building is covered with grey asphalt shingle. Its 'A' roof is covered with corrugated tin. In the south gable is a small casement window which was probably adjacent an original chimney..

Behind the aforementioned section is a three bay long two story section about the same depth as the front portion. On the north side is a hip roof porch with plain balustrade which provides access to the building. On the east gable is an outside stair to the second story. Most of the windows on both sections of the house have 2/2 sash. They originally had shutters on both storys.

Along George Street is an attractive white picket fence.

The lines of the building are very good. It might be improved by having the weatherboard renewed and shutters re-installed. It may also have had 6/6 sash. The gate is not hung and its re-installation would be advantageous to the appearance of the building and lot.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Day House is not architecturally noteworthy, however, it is similar to several of the adjoining dwellings and as such, maintains the scale of the streetscape.

This house was originally a tenant house for a waterman and his family. When Dr. Davis owned the property, it was converted to two apartments. Another of the typical Eastern Shore small town houses for watermen, this house has changed little in outward appearance since it was built.
